

The investments and transactions shown are solely for illustrative and informational purposes and are inclusive of both current and realized investments. The investment material shown is in no way intended to represent or guarantee past or future performance, provide assumptions on profitability, nor should constitute an offer, recommendation, or solicitation of purchase. The investments are provided to illustrate the diverse types of transactions entered into by Siguler Guff managed funds and are not representative of the entire portfolio, nor are reflective of overall performance results. A full list of portfolio investments can be provided upon request.